

Practice brief: Get creative quick.

The brief

The rules

Your contact

01

01

01

AWARD
School
Sponsored by

∞ Meta

awardschool.com.au

© ADVERTISING COUNCIL AUSTRALIA

Practice Brief

The brief is right below — it's your chance to get insights and advice from leading industry experts. What's more, all responses are anonymous! So, shake off those nerves, and have a go!

THE BRIEF

Client/Brand	Yeti
Product	Tundra Hard Cooler
Media	Poster
Target Audience	Outdoorsy people
Single-Minded Proposition	Keeps things colder than any other
Reason to Believe / Proof of Proposition	Yeti coolers were born out of the need for keeping things colder to be able to stay on outdoor adventures for longer. Their coolers are aimed at high-end beach-goers, water enthusiasts, fishing and outdoor-minded people who want high-quality products with superior ice retention. The Tundra line of coolers can also be locked with 2 padlocks to seal in the cold for even longer and keep curious critters (or campers) out.
Mandatories	Yeti logo

THE RULES / INSTRUCTIONS

1. All work must be in black and white (scamps).
2. All images must be hand-drawn. If you'd like to include an image that you can't draw, then simply trace it. Typed text laid over a scanned drawing will also be acceptable.
3. Simplicity is paramount. Don't complicate your ideas, remove unnecessary wording/detail.
4. To submit your poster, register via the portal and upload your poster by 5 PM AEST on October 1.

YOUR CONTACT

Got a question?

Reach out to Steph Loutas, steph@adcouncil.org.au